“The $52.00 Pizza”

Are Your Kids Headed For the Debt Train?

Parents don't let this be your child!

When your children walk out of your home each morning have you ever wondered, how prepared are they for life? Do they have the required life-skills, money skills needed to navigate this ultra competitive society? Will they be destined for a life of debt, stress and heartache?

Local Richmond small-business owner has written an absolute gem of a book. It details how to teach money concepts to our youth, in a 21st century style. With such chapter titles as “If You Have Grapes...Make Wine”, “Stability,” “Everybody’s Doing It” and my favorite “Humor” you will not want to put this user-friendly book down. Oh...look for a ‘character’ to pop up and then disappear back into his world.

Discover what you can do now with your child; learn how to leverage technology, their learning style... all to help them understand the money-basics.

A recent customer remarked “Every parent should read this book and I mean every parent”

“The $52.00 Pizza” can be found on Amazon or B&N .com. Buy your copy today.
